1. Aim and scope of policy

- 1.1 This policy applies to the processing of personal data in manual and electronic records kept by The Bishop's Palace (managed by The Palace Trust) in connection with its human resources function as described below. It also covers our organisational response to any data breach and other rights under the General Data Protection Regulation.
- 1.2 This policy applies to the personal data of job applicants, existing and former employees, apprentices, volunteers, placement students, workers and self-employed contractors of The Palace Trust. These are referred to in this policy as relevant individuals.
- 1.3 This policy is effective from 25th May 2018.

2. Definitions

- 2.1 "Personal data" is information that relates to an identifiable person who can be directly or indirectly identified from that information, for example, a person's name, identification number, location, online identifier. It can also include pseudonymised data.
- 2.2 "Special categories of personal data" is data which relates to an individual's health, sex life, sexual orientation, race, ethnic origin, political opinion, religion, and trade union membership. It also includes genetic and biometric data (where used for ID purposes).
- 2.3 "Criminal offence data" is data which relates to an individual's criminal convictions and offences.
- 2.4 "Data processing" is any operation or set of operations which is performed on personal data or on sets of personal data, whether or not by automated means, such as collection, recording, organisation, structuring, storage, adaptation or alteration, retrieval, consultation, use, disclosure by transmission, dissemination or otherwise making available, alignment or combination, restriction, erasure or destruction.
- 2.5 The Palace makes a commitment to ensuring that personal data, including special categories of personal data and criminal offence data (where appropriate) is processed in line with GDPR and domestic laws and all its employees conduct themselves in line with this, and other related policies. Where third parties process data on behalf of the Palace, the Palace will ensure that the third party takes such measures in order to maintain the Palace's commitment to protecting data. In line with GDPR, the Palace understands that it will be accountable for the processing, management and regulation, storage and retention of all personal data held in the form of manual records and on computers.

3. Types of data held

3.1 Personal data is kept in personnel files or within the Palace's HR and payroll systems. The following types of data may be held by the Palace, as appropriate, on relevant individuals:

- name, address, phone numbers - for individual and next of kin,
- application forms, CVs and other information gathered during recruitment,
- references from former employers,
- national insurance numbers,
- job title, job descriptions and pay information,
- conduct issues such as letters of concern, disciplinary proceedings,
- holiday records,
- internal performance information,
- medical or health information,
- sickness absence records,
- tax codes,
- terms and conditions of employment,
- training details.

3.2 Relevant individuals should refer to the Palace's privacy notice for more information on the reasons for its processing activities, the lawful bases it relies on for the processing and data retention periods.

4. Data protection principles

4.1 All personal data obtained and held by the Palace will:

- be processed fairly, lawfully and in a transparent manner,
- be collected for specific, explicit, and legitimate purposes,
- be adequate, relevant and limited to what is necessary for the purposes of processing,
- be kept accurate and up to date. Every reasonable effort will be made to ensure that inaccurate data is rectified or erased without delay,
- not be kept for longer than is necessary for its given purpose,
- be processed in a manner that ensures appropriate security of personal data including protection against unauthorised or unlawful processing, accidental loss, destruction or damage by using appropriate technical or organisational measures,
- comply with the relevant GDPR procedures for international transferring of personal data.

In addition, personal data will be processed in recognition of individuals' data protection rights, as follows:

- the right to be informed,
- the right of access,
- the right for any inaccuracies to be corrected (rectification),

- the right to have information deleted (erasure),
- the right to restrict the processing of the data,
- the right to portability,
- the right to object to the inclusion of any information,
- the right to regulate any automated decision-making and profiling of personal data.

5. Procedures

5.1 The Palace has taken the following steps to protect the personal data of relevant individuals, which it holds or to which it has access:

- 5.1.1. It appoints or identifies employees with specific responsibilities for:
- the processing and controlling of data,
 - the reviewing and auditing of its data protection systems and procedures,
 - overseeing the effectiveness and integrity of all the data that must be protected.
- 5.1.2. It provides information to its employees on their data protection rights, how it uses their personal data, and how it protects it. The information includes the actions relevant individuals can take if they think that their data has been compromised in any way.
- 5.1.3. It provides its employees with information and training to make them aware of the importance of protecting personal data, and to understand how to treat information confidentially.
- 5.1.4. It accounts for the personal data it holds, where it comes from, who it is shared with and also who it might be shared with.
- 5.1.5. It carries out risk assessments as part of reviewing activities to identify any vulnerability in its personal data handling and processing, and takes measures to reduce the risks of mishandling and potential breaches of data security. The procedure includes an assessment of the impact of both the use and potential misuse of personal data held in and processed by the Palace.
- 5.1.6. It recognises the importance of seeking individuals' consent (where consent is used as a lawful basis for holding data) for obtaining, recording, using, sharing, storing and retaining their personal data, and regularly reviews its procedures for doing so, including the audit trails that are needed and are followed for all consent decisions. The Palace understands that consent must be freely given, specific, informed and unambiguous. The Palace will seek consent on a specific and individual basis where appropriate. Full information will be given regarding the activities about which consent is sought. Relevant individuals have the absolute and unimpeded right to withdraw that consent at any time.

5.1.7. It has appropriate mechanisms for detecting, reporting and investigating suspected or actual personal data breaches, including security breaches. It is aware of its duty to report significant breaches that cause significant harm to the affected individuals to the Information Commissioner, and is aware of the possible consequences.

6. Access to data

6.1 Relevant individuals have a right to be informed whether the Palace processes personal data relating to them and to access the data that the Palace holds about them. Requests for access to this data will be dealt with under the following summary guidelines:

- a form on which to make a subject access request is available from the Palace's Subject Access Request Policy. The request should be sent to the Chief Executive,
- the Palace will not charge for the supply of data unless the request is manifestly unfounded, excessive or repetitive, or unless a request is made for duplicate copies to be provided to parties other than the employee making the request,
- the Palace will respond to a request without delay. Access to data will be provided, subject to legally permitted exemptions, within one month as a maximum. This may be extended by a further two months where requests are complex or numerous.

6.2 Relevant individuals must inform the Palace immediately if they believe that the data is inaccurate, either as a result of a subject access request or otherwise. The Palace will take immediate steps to rectify the information.

6.3 For further information on making a subject access request, please refer to our subject access request policy.

7. Data disclosures

7.1 The Palace may be required to disclose certain data/information to other parties. These kinds of disclosures will only be made when strictly necessary. The circumstances leading to such disclosures include:

- any employee benefits operated by third parties,
- disabled individuals - whether any reasonable adjustments are required to assist them at work,
- individuals' health data - to comply with health and safety or occupational health obligations towards the employee,
- for Statutory Sick Pay purposes,
- HR management and administration - to consider how an individual's health affects his or her ability to do their job,
- the smooth operation of any employee insurance policies or pension plans.

8. Data security

- 8.1 The Palace adopts procedures designed to maintain the security of data when it is stored and transported.
- 8.2 In addition, employees must:
- ensure that all files or written information of a confidential nature are stored in a secure manner and are only accessed by people who have a need and a right to access them,
 - ensure that all files or written information of a confidential nature are not left where they can be read by unauthorised people,
 - check regularly on the accuracy of data being entered into computers,
 - always use the passwords provided to access the computer system and not abuse them by passing them on to people who should not have them,
 - use computer screen blanking to ensure that personal data is not left on screen when not in use.
- 8.3 Personal data relating to employees should not normally be kept or transported on laptops, USB sticks, or similar devices. Where personal data is recorded on any such device it should be protected by:
- ensuring that data is recorded on such devices only where absolutely necessary,
 - using an encrypted system - a folder should be created to store the files that need extra protection and all files created or moved to this folder should be automatically encrypted,
 - ensuring that laptops or USB drives are not left lying around where they can be stolen.
- 8.4 Failure to follow the Palace's rules on data security may be dealt with via the Palace's disciplinary procedure. Appropriate sanctions include dismissal with or without notice dependent on the severity of the failure.

9. Breach notification

- 9.1 Where a data breach is likely to result in a risk to the rights and freedoms of individuals, it will be reported to the Information Commissioner within 72 hours of the Palace becoming aware of it and may be reported in more than one instalment.
- 9.2 Individuals will be informed directly in the event that the breach is likely to result in a high risk to the rights and freedoms of that individual.
- 9.3 If the breach is sufficient to warrant notification to the public, the Palace will do so without undue delay.

10. Training

- 10.1 New employees must read and understand the policies on data protection as part of their induction, this will cover topics including confidentiality, data protection and the actions to take upon identifying a potential data breach. Further training will be provided as necessary.

10.2 The nominated data controller/auditors/protection officers for the Palace are trained appropriately in their roles under the GDPR.

11. Records

11.1 The Palace keeps records of its processing activities including the purpose for the processing and retention periods. These records will be kept up to date so that they reflect current processing activities.
